THOUGHT PROVOKING DESIGN JOURNEYS OF 4 LEADING WOMEN DESIGNERS

One of the key intentions of WADe is to unleash, unveil, and upbring the design journeys of the women achievers to the world. The second panel discussion was all about the steel head feminism.

A very interesting set of panelists : Anju Malla Pradhan, Vice President at Society of Nepalese Architects, Nepal, Pallavi Dean from Pallavi Dean Interiors, Dubai, Mona Doctor Pingel from Studio Naqshbandi, Auroville, Seema Puri from SEZA, Mumbai and Sonal Sancheti, Co founder, OPOLIS, Mumbai shared scintillating and highly inspiring stories of their design journeys at the event. The supremely talented and graceful young Architect Manishi Aggarwal, co-founder, Cosmos Design, Gurugram moderated the panel discussion.

These prominent women achievers and designers are known for their super-strong entrepreneurial skills and ability to both influence and encourage. It was truly inspiring to listen and learn how these conquerors stood tall amidst all the rejections, gender biasedness, and eventually developed a steelhead.

IS HOUSING BECOMING MORE THAN SHELTER?

Homes today are no longer just shelters; global exposures, media, technology, luxurious experiences at retail & restaurants have created the demand for homes which are able to meet the new age requirements. This panel discussion touched upon the transition of residential housing – from where it was in the eighties to where it is now. Priorities, ownerships, aspirations, family size, status-quo – everything has changed.

However, has the architectural mindset also changed to catch up and is it in sync with the changing mindset? It was a real intense interaction moderated by Alok Agarwal, CMD, Orient Bell with the dignified panellists: Chandrika Sahay, Director & Principal Architect, Meraki Design, Darpan Kucchal; Rahul Tyagi, RT Associate, New Delhi; and Neena Shah, MR Warekar & Associates Pvt. Ltd, New Delhi.

WADe MASTERCLASS WITH MENTORS

"I think that the event put up by Vertica is phenomenal and very forward thinking. We as minority need to share our experiences so that the younger generation is able to counter the challenges they face. I wish I could be there. My absence is my loss. Lot of love & best wishes to all in WADe Asia!"

Ar Sheila Sri Prakash, Founder, Shilpa Architects, Chennai

(Unfortunately, she could not join. This was received as a video message)

The last day of WADe Asia 2018 also incorporated an amazing panel discussion by the successful and inspiring panellists, who need no introduction - Sunita Kohli: President, K2India (Architecture, Interior Design, Furniture, Restoration, Landscape, Construction); Nela De Zoysa: Nela de Zoysa, Principal Architect, Design Corp, Sri Lanka; Brinda Miller: Artist, former director of the Kala Ghoda Arts Festival in Mumbai; and Sonali Rastogi: Co-Founder, Morphogenesis, New Delhi.

The intensity of the discussions, the insightful real-life instances, the inherent need of mentors, the mindset and the tactics to deal with demanding situations and clients, the omnipresent challenges, the non-negotiable will to bounce back – it was a unique discussion that took the audience into the lives of these uber successful women in design. The young successful founder Annkur Khosla Design Studio, Mumbai, Annkur Khosla, marvellously moderated this panel discussion. WADe Masterclass with Mentors is one of the most loved & awaited sessions of WADe Asia since its inception.

BUSINESS INTELLIGENCE IN DESIGN

“There is a lot of support available today in terms of funds, schemes, and favourable environment. To avail them, the first step is to be aware of what is happening around you!”
Vertica Dvivedi, WADe Asia

The 2nd and the last day of WADe Asia 2018 kicked off with a panel discussion with two much awaited themes – Business Intelligence In Design and the launch of PHD Women Entrepreneurs Committee. The talk was moderated by the founder of WADe Asia, Vertica Dvivedi and was attended by panellists:

Tripti Somani, Chairperson, Women Entrepreneurship Committee, PHD Chamber of Commerce & Industry, New Delhi ; Pune ; Anil Khaitan, President, PHD Chamber of Commerce & Industry, New Delhi ; Mr Udaykumar P, NSIC, Ministry of Micro Small & Medium Enterprises, New Delhi; Rangnath Krishna Chandra, Senior Adviser, Mentor, Support Network, NIESBUD, Noida; Pinaki Nandi, National Sales Head, Orient Bell Limited, New Delhi; and Mahesh Reddy, Secretary General (Designate) PHD Chambers.

The discussion was about how the designers of today face severe challenges, when it comes to initiate and implement the critical business skills, irrespective of their sharp acumen and creative abilities. They also discussed about the probabilities, possibilities, and unheard government schemes for women entrepreneurs, in India. The words of the representatives of the ministries were an eye-opener about the endless funding opportunities for the lady aspirers. WADe Asia will take this topic forward for more discussion in future.
